3 COMPANIES SEEK PERMITS TO BRIDGE BAY

Applications Will Be Presented to The San Francisco Board of Supervisors Monday

DIFFERENT ROUTES SELECTED

Permission of War Department Must Be Secured Before Action Is Taken

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—There will be officially before the San Francisco board of supervisors tomorrow applications from three groups of capitalists for franchises to construct and operate toll bridges from San Francisco to different points in Alameda county. The three applications are:

—The application of the Bay Cities Bridge Corporation for permission to construct an "all-span" bridge from Sixteenth street in San Francisco to Pacific avenue in Alameda at an estimated cost of from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000, according to type.

—The application of New York capitalists, represented by Attorney James M. Oliver, to construct a $60,000,000 span and the bay crossing from Mission street in San Francisco to the Southern Pacific Oakland Mole, thence to Adeline street in Oakland.

—The application of Allan C. Rush, to construct a $20,000,000 span crossing from Mission street in San Francisco to Goat Island, thence to the Alameda county mainland.

In view of the request of the board of supervisors of two weeks ago that the war department grant a rehearing on its previous reiterated rulings that at present bar building of the bridges, it is expected no action will be taken tomorrow, pending receipt of word from the war department.

The present attitude of the war department is that no low bridge will be countenanced north of Hunter's Point.

Work of Moving Penney Store Is Now In Progress

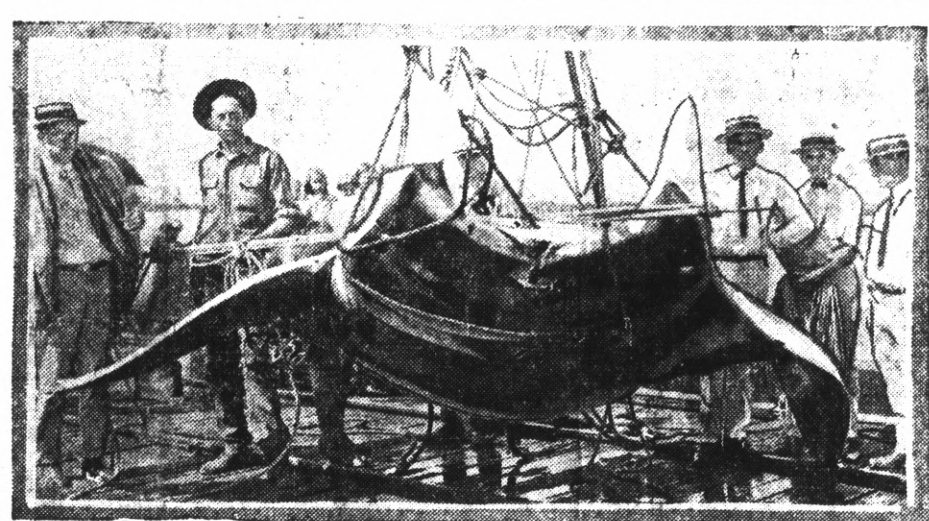

Marking another big step in its program of expansion and development, the Richmond store of the J. C. Penney company last night began moving its complete stock of goods from its location at 730 Macdonald avenue to its new home in the Kueffer building at Seventh street and Macdonald avenue.

Moving of the stock continued all night in preparation for the opening in the new location next Wednesday, July 29. The store will be closed Monday and Tuesday in order that it may be properly arranged for the opening.

Formerly occupied by Alberts, Inc., the new location of the Penney store is considered very advantageous from a business standpoint. The first floor of the building has been completely remodeled and presents quite an attractive appearance. The rear of the building has been extended so as to give ample space for the large stock carried by the Penney company, while the front has been made pleasing to the eye by arcade show windows calculated to display the goods to better advantage.

Established in Richmond three years ago at 730 Macdonald avenue, the local store of the Penney company has developed its volume of business until at the present time it is one of the largest department stores in the city. The J. C. Penney company is a nation-wide institution,

POSTMASTER AT PACIFIC GROVE IS EMBEZZLER

Former Mayor Finds Himself In Toils of Law For Fund Shortage

ACCUSED MAKES CONFESSION

Brother To Come to Rescue And Will Make Offer to Reimburse Government

PACIFIC GROVE, July 25.—James Harper, postmaster and former mayor of Pacific Grove, was arrested today by postal inspectors R. W. Madden and S. McKean, of San Francisco office, on a charge of having embezzled $7,145 of government funds, during his two years administration of the Pacific Grove postoffice.

Harper made a confession, and immediately offered to make restitution of the stolen funds. In the absence of a United States Commissioner at Pacific Grove, he was arraigned before Police Judge T. L. Fitzsimmons, and released on $5,000 bail.

For 15 years a resident and for two decades a leading citizen of Pacific Grove, Harper blamed his plight on real estate speculations, and upon false pride that made him conceal his losses.

"Everything would have worked out all right," he said yesterday "if I had not been too proud to ask my friends for money to tide me over. It began several years ago when I was in the real estate business. I began by borrowing real estate payments and insurance premiums, rubbing Peter to pay Paul. I was in deep when I was appointed postmaster two years ago, and saw in that a way out."

"It's a terrible experience for a man of my age and standing. What hurts most, though, is that my three children, a boy of high school age, and two little girls, will have to suffer for the sin of their parent. I am almost penniless. Outside of a couple vacant lots there is nothing between me and Kingdom come."

Harper said that he estimated he had embezzled $6,000 during his term as postmaster, adding that his brother would arrive in Pacific Grove today to help him make restitution, if the government would permit him to do it.

PERMITS TAKEN OUT FOR TWO NEW HOMES

The Bay Cities Home Builders yesterday took out permits for the construction of two new homes. One of the cottages, costing $2,500, will be built on Ventura avenue, between Clinton and Solano avenues. NO TRACE YET OF "JIM GOUGH" IN OIL FRAUD

OAKLAND, July 25.—Making the tenth of eleven persons indicted yesterday for alleged complicity in the $800,000,000 oil merger now in custody, George Burnside, former Oakland merchant, surrendered himself at the county jail today.

Burnside, who was indicted for grand larceny in 12 counts by the grand jury yesterday, was permitted today to surrender himself in order that he might make arrangements to raise his $30,000 bail.

J. C. Coombs, W. B. Sherman, and W. R. Moody, who were indicted for alleged violation of the state corporate securities act, have been released on bail of $25,000 each.

Six more alleged fraudulent stock operators are in the county jail. They are F. P. Davis, Edward F. Reeves, Mrs. Peggy M. Reeves, C. E. Peacock, C. E. Spaulding and Burnside. Davis, Reeves and Peacock are held in default of $50,000 bail each, while bail for Mrs. Reeves was set at $30,000. Spaulding is held in default of $25,000 bail.

L. Gernhardt, who was arrested yesterday shortly before the indictment was returned, is in the city jail. His bail was set at $25,000.

Search for "Jim Gough," alleged ringleader of the enterprise, was continued today. Believed to be hiding somewhere in the Northwest, Gough has eluded capture for two weeks.

SUPPRESSION OF "SUCKER" LIST IS DECIDED ON

OAKLAND, July 25. Declaring that the victims of the alleged Golett $800,000,000 oil merger should be accorded the fullest possible protection against bunco artists, District Attorney Earl Warren today announced his intention to withhold the "sucker lists" from the press.

"If these names were made public," Warren said, "they would be clipped from the newspapers and pasted in the memorandum books of bunco men all over the country. These confidence men would assume that those who had 'bitten' once might easily be induced to do so again. The result would be that for years to come the people who lost money in the Golett 'bubble' would be tempted with glittering financial propositions which they would find it difficult to resist, especially since they would be anxious to recoup their present losses."

The names of purchasers of the Golett stock which resulted in the indictment of 11 persons yesterday, are now in the hands of Warren, and the postal authorities. They were contained in lists, some of which were seized by the police in a raid on the head offices of the organization in the Title Insurance building several weeks ago. The other lists were surrendered to the police several days later by E. P. Davis, E. F. Reeves and C. E. Peacock, alleged heads of the "ring."

"Every effort," Warren said, "is to be made to protect the citizens of this county from the depredations of bunco men. The principal means to accomplish this, of course, is to bring about the arrest and conviction of confidence men as soon as possible after they begin operating. This will advertise to bunco men everywhere that Oakland is an unsafe place for them, and will prevent their coming here in the future."

155 INDICTED BY GRAND JURY IN ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, July 25.—One hundred and fifty-five individuals and corporations in the furniture business were named in indictments returned today, charging violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust act.

Today's group of furniture manufacturers are the makers of dining room furniture. The indictments are the result of investigations into the alleged furniture trust.

The indictments were the second batch returned by Federal grand juries since the investigation. Half of the members of the National Alliance of Furniture Manufacturers, previously indicted, have entered pleas of guilty and paid fines in excess of $200,000.

Manufacturers of dining room furniture indicted today include Showers Bros., Bloomington, Ind., and Burlington, I. va.

The indictments charge that the defendant furniture corporations and individuals have controlled prices through organizations such as the National Alliance of Furniture Manufacturers, maintaining prices higher than should have prevailed except for such combinations. The manufacturers also are charged with having curtailed the quantities of furniture manufactured in order to insure maintenance of the prices fixed.

The jury recommended punishment be fixed at life imprisonment, but sentence was withheld at request of defense attorneys, who obtained thirty days within which to file motions for a new trial.

SMOKELESS NATION FORECASTED

It is predicted that America will be the first nation to outlaw smoke, soot, and ashes by using gas fuel instead of solid fuel for heating processes in shops and factories. It will be first to have its homes heated by gas, thermostatically controlled.

The increasing use of gas is an inevitable result of modern demands for comfort and efficiency, to which must be added the growing conviction that human life and property are suffering incalculable damage from the smoke evil.

The progress of fuel conservation depends upon the progress of gas utilization. The public is beginning to see this truth and act accordingly. The gas industry has grown because it has saved coal, labor, and money for the public.

STATE FORESTRY

The state of Connecticut has taken a long step forward toward forest planting and preservation of existing forest wealth.

The Nutmeg State, with no mountains, little hill country and mostly stripped of its original woods, appropriated this year $445,000 for acquiring state forests.

That little New England state has the nerve to select 25,000 acres of land suitable for forestry, and aims to plant trees and redeem 200,000 acres of woods.

Scientific forestry and fire protection for trees should be made a vital issue in every state in Our Country and the little New England commonwealth is setting a fine example planting raw material for its traditional wooden nutmegs.

MINING, A PRODUCING INDUSTRY

The idea seems to be prevalent that the proceeds from mining are chiefly profits. As a matter of fact, almost half the income of the mining industry goes for wages to workmen.

In Arizona, last year, where $100,000,000 in gold, silver, copper, zinc and lead was mined, 45 per cent was paid out for labor and 45 per cent more for supplies, freight and taxes. That is why mining should have all possible encouragement, because it is one of our big producing, employing and taxpaying industries.

DRESS By MARY MARSHALL

The Small Felt Hat Holds Its Own Against All Newcomers.

The small straw hat of bangkok and similar sorts has at last made good the claims made for it earlier in the season, and there is much to be said about the prospects of the velvet hat for late summer and autumn. But the small soft felt hat persists and occupies a place in the wardrobes of many women that seem to have no other hat can take. Just at present there seems to be a strong demand for purple felt hats—that deep pansy shade that every one is wearing, and that is generally much more becoming than the fuchsia shades worn earlier in the season. But according to the notions of some of the best dressed women, the very fact that every woman either has a purple hat or has a half-formed notion to go and buy one is a very good reason why you should select some other shade. There are always shades much smarter than the shade that appears all over town. Purple was very much better a month or so ago that it is now, and you were wise if you wore your purple hat then. But if you are yet thinking of buying it, choose some other shade.

Turquoise blue which is used much by Reboux of Paris would be a good choice, and this goes admirably with a black or navy blue ensemble. Then there are shades that are excellent in felt and are quite sure not to become over popularized. Rather trying is the shade of bright blue that the French call blue royale. It is a sort of indigo blue and sometimes it is called "ball blue" here and sometimes "pencil blue". These blues differs somewhat but they are all bright and rather opaque—staring enough to be very smart in just the right way.

The sketch shows two felt hats bearing the cachet of French design. The scalloped shape of the upper one suggests the flutings of a tart shell. Below is a little mauve felt trimmed with a purple aigrette. Interestingly enough all these shapes and in infinite variety of other shapes are produced from the crudely shaped felt pieces that are like clay in the potter's hands when deftly manipulated by a clever milliner.

WISE AND OTHERWISE By MARY MARSHALL

WATER ENOUGH

THANK fortune we live in an age when there is no prejudice against our slacking our thirst. The idea used to be that it was quite possible to drink too much water, especially when you were thirsty. Parents assured themselves that it was thinning to the blood to drink much water, and pale or frail children especially were deterred in their natural desire to drink much water. If you went for a walk on a warm day and came back thirsty the feeling seemed to be that it would be quite harmful to drink as you would like to. You might rinse your mouth with water to begin with if you made sure not to swallow the water, and then you might drink a little after you had cooled from your walk—only a swallow to begin with.

And your instinct had been to drink and drink and drink—cups and cups of good, cool water.

The idea apparently was that you might become all filled up with water, whereas your craving for liquids ought to be satisfied with good nourishing soup or milk. Of course it is a mistake to let a child drink a quality of water with his meal or just as he sits down, but to drink a glass of water a few minutes before eating, or in the morning before breakfast, is an excellent habit.

Apparently the old idea was that our instincts were all wrong. We were warned not to let children have water to drink when they were feverish. The very fact that they cried piteously for water seemed to be good reason for supposing that they ought not to have it, and the parent felt that it was her hard duty to keep them from getting what they craved. Now, of course, doctors permit fever patients, almost always, to have water when they want it.

WHERE IT STARTED

THE BLUE LAWS

The earliest code of Blue Laws consisted of 45 articles, and were on the statute books of the New England Colonies about the middle of the eighteenth century. The name is probably derived from the malicious designation of their promulgators as "blue-noses."

Extremely cold water is, however, not so wholesome as water that is just cold. Children who never have iced water seem to be able to drink with a relish water as cold as it comes when it has been allowed to run a minute or two from the faucet. And adults who have become used to nothing but iced water can without much difficulty get so they prefer water that has merely been chilled in the refrigerator. This is more wholesome and less expensive.

Pear-Nut Crop Of Contra Costa Worth Million

Bartlett pears and walnuts, just two of Contra Costa county's varied crops, will contribute more than a million dollars to the wealth of the state this year, according to an estimate, following a canvass of the situation by L. H. Rodebaugh, traffic manager of the San Francisco-Sacramento railroad. Each of the two crops will go well over a half million dollars, it is estimated.

Bartlett pears are now being shipped from points along the line of the San Francisco-Sacramento road at the rate of twelve cars a day and this will continue until upward of 600 cars have been sent out to eastern points. The yield will be double that of last year, according to Rodebaugh, and the fruit is of excellent quality. Much of the increase is due to improved yields this season, though to this must be added the fact that many new acres of pears are coming into bearing for the first time this year.

Practically all of the fruit is being shipped from Walnut Creek, Meiner, Bancroft, Burton and Morgan.

Walnuts are also being shipped in large quantities, and the yield is expected to be about the same as last year.

Revue Is Big Feature On California Bill

With an entirely new offering the Willis West Revue will again be the outstanding attraction on the variety section of the double bill at the California Theatre today.

"The Show Girl" the title of the new tabloid musical comedy is replete with comedy situations and smart dialogue that garners laughs and the up to the minute numbers are sure to be popular. The sextette of sprightly girls with their frequent changes of pretty costumes are a big factor in the success of the revue. Some of the specialties and songs in this weeks play are "The Bell Hop Blues," Red Hot Henry Brown, "Oh How I Miss You Tonight," "If It Wasn't for You" and several specially written numbers. Dainty Marquerite Donaldson in a dance specialty entitled "The Military Maid" is a terpsichorean sprite who will go far in her profession. The comedy portion of the show is in the capable hands of Willis West and Meade Zeigler with Don Smith as the likeable juvenile.

"The Show Girl" is a story of a young couple with irascible parents, and their efforts to gain domestic bliss without outside help.

VAUDEVILLE

Paul Mix a young boy from the West has a novel vaudeville presentation and Doris and Meyers, a comedy couple, have plenty to entertain in their twelve minute offering, with Alan Gray a comedy magician keeping his end up with some neat manipulation feats that are sure to please young and old.

SCREEN FEATURE

"The Age of Desire," a First National picture produced by Frank Borzage is the tale of a woman who followed the elusive mirage of happiness, sacrificing her baby son in her craving for luxury and the happiness which she believed would accompany it.

When the fascination of wealth had worn off and she found her heart craving for her son, she was unable to locate him, although scores of detectives were put on the trail. The boy, falling in with evil companions, had joined a band of blackmailers. The head of the gang, reading the mother's advertisements asking for information concerning her son, conceived the idea of palming off the lad on her.

Thus it came about that a son was set to extort many thousands of dollars from his real mother, unaware of her identity. She was happy to fulfill all his demands, but when the boy fell in love with Margy, he had a change of heart and he sickened.

Many Changes In The Auto Industry

Universal Service Automobile Editor DETROIT, Mich., July 25.—The automobile industry is on the verge of one of the greatest price cutting periods in its history. Two cuts were made this week, two last week and about five will be made next week. One widely-known manufacturer of a medium priced car will reduce his sedan price $700 next week.

The cuts are being made and will be made chiefly by the larger manufacturers, who hope through this means to keep summer production up to a high level. They are being made possible through the gravitation of most of the business to the larger companies, who are more in control of the automobile market now than ever.

April, May and June of this year were the greatest months the industry has ever seen; the first half of this year was the greatest consecutive six months in the history of the business. The big manufacturers are getting bigger and through increased volume of production and sales are being enabled to offer cars at rock bottom prices.

Hudson Essex, The Star performer of the year, is getting ready to boost production from 1,100 cars a day to 2,000 daily; Nash, the second in order of gains this year introduced a new line this week and anticipates an even greater sale next year. Dodge Brothers, last week announced a mammoth building program and plans an increase in production from 1,200 to 1,600 cars daily.

Chevrolet is building more than 2,400 cars daily and behind orders; Maxwell, Chrysler plants are operating at capacity clip of 7750 cars daily, and are straining efforts to increase that total; Packard jumped production recently from 100 to 170 cars daily and Oakland is working day and night on 1926 models, with ed of the deception he had been practicing. The came a surprising climax.

Never has Borzage possessed such a vital, pulsating theme for a picture, and he has done it justice. "The Age of Desire" is one of the year's strongest pictures and boasts of a cast that includes Mary Philbin, Myrtle Stedman, William Collier, Jr., Josef Swickard, Fredrick Truesdell, Bruce Guerin, Frankie Lee, J. Farrell MacDonald, Mary Jane Irving, Aggie Herring and Edith R. Yorke.

Other features on the same program include "Bobby Bump & Co.," a Bobby Bump comedy; "Kinograms" world news events; Carl Richard's California Orchestra.

approximately 60,000 cars prospect for the year."

In light of the fact that the bigger companies are getting more of the business and that as a result the bigger companies are the ones making the deepest price cuts, it is interesting to reflect on how this move will effect the smaller organizations.

The number of companies going out of the automobile business has been greater each year, in the last ten. It promised to establish a record this year, despite the seemingly assured fact that 1926 will be the greatest year the industry has seen for production and sales.

The industry, right now, is in the throes of new models. Two are announced this week and four more 1926 lines will be announced next week. The 1926 cars already accounted for are the Ajax, Diana, Moon, Kissel, Chandler and Chrysler four. The new Oakland and Nash lines are announced this week.

Two features are outstanding in 1926 automobiles rock bottom prices and greatly improved riding qualities. Comfort has been given uppermost regard. Improved spring suspensions, balancers to absorb tortional vibration, more bearings, lower hung bodies and larger balloon tires are prominent in the factors that promise to make the 1926 automobile the finest riding car that motordom has yet enjoyed.

The march toward the perfect automobile has carried the industry through a number of retuning stages, with the following pertinent annual advances:

1923—The pronounced arrival of the closed car.

1924—The popular introduction of four wheel brakes and balloon tires.

1925—The coming of a top priced closed car, the coach-in-members.

1926—Rock bottom prices and greatly improved riding qualities.

High lights of the current week in motordom are the announcement of the 1923 Oakland line at lower prices; a Chrysler Six, price reduction, averaging $100 and a record-smashing transcontinental run by a Willis Sainte Claire car from coast to coast over the Lincoln highway 1,102 hours and forty five minutes.

L. S. Miller, San Francisco business man, established a record this month that will likely stand for some time the intrepid Californian completed a record continuous run July 18 in his Willis Sainte Claire roadster from New York to San Francisco over the Lincoln highway. His time was 102 hours and forty five minutes, which breaks the best previous trans-working towards the corners of the material, until you have covered, say, two inches. Leave some spaces exposed, as you wind, where the color may go through a little, or, if you like, wind at intervals instead of making a solid band. A uniform spiral winding results in a very charming effect. When starting to wind, leave a long end of string which will protrude from the wound part and give you an end to tie a knot with when you have covered enough of the material. Make a bow-knot so that it will untie easily after dyeing.

The New Oakland line, announced today, carries price reductions ranging from $70 to $350, in addition to 101 refinements, featured by the harmonic balancer, an engineering development for eliminating engine vibration. The new price range is from $1,065 to $1,295.

Refinements and price reductions on the Chrysler Six line were made during the week, the price cuts averaging $100.

A better way to fasten the tape, although more difficult, is to slip the remaining end through the last loop, pulling tight, but do not cut the string too close to the material or it may come unwound when in the dye-bath and spoil your work. It would be advisable to practice the winding and fastening before the dyeing is attempted. This latter method of fastening the string is much the better because of the ease with which it can be pulled off after the dyeing. Now that the center tie is prepared for the dyeing, this may be surrounded by smaller ties. In making these ties

BEFORE going into the details of actually manipulating the material a few general rules should be set down which should always be borne in mind.

Any new material, whether silk or cotton, should first be washed with soap and water and rinsed before dyeing, as there is always more or less dressing in the fabric. This has a tendency either to resist the dye or to absorb so much of it that the material does not get enough.

To dye material so that the color will be fast to ordinary washing it is necessary to boil the colors properly. Prepare a large enameled ware pan of warm water to be used for the dye-bath. Make a concentrated solution of the dye to be used in a smaller enameled ware receptacle like a bowl or cup. Moisten the cloth in the warm water, lift it out and pour into the water a little of the concentrated dye-stuff, stirring it thoroughly. Hold the cloth out at full length, with a helper if necessary, and feed it rapidly but smoothly into the dye-bath. Do not wad the material up and drop it into the dye-bath, as streaks are bound to result, and these are impossible to eradicate or cover. Keep stirring the material in the dye-bath. After ten or fifteen minutes' boiling and stirring, the color does not seem to be efficiently intense lift the material entirely out of the dye-bath, add and stir in a little more of the concentrated dye, and return the cloth to the dye-bath by the same process as before. Good dyeing is not done rapidly, it being advisable to add the color to the dye-bath in small quantities until the cloth is dyed. After the dyeing operation is over, rinse the cloth well and allow it to dry. Washing with soap and redyeing insures better and faster color. If the cloth is plunged directly into a strong dye-bath, even dyeing is out of the question.

Where speed in dyeing is more essential than fastness of color, and the design does not require an evenly colored background, as in some of the popular forms of tie-dyeing, the materials may be dipped into the dyes. For this the dye-bath must be much stronger and should also be hot. Any scum appearing on the surface of the dye must be removed before the cloth is dipped into it. An enameled ware skimmer will be found very helpful for this purpose.

Tie-dyeing may be done on silk or cotton, but the brightest colors are more easily obtained on silk. It consists in folding, tying, binding or sewing the material in selected parts, and then dyeing wherever the material is tied, bound or sewed the dye does not readily penetrate, and the parts thus protected from the action of the dye will remain the original color of the material, while the surrounding free parts will be dyed, thus producing a design. There are several ways of tying as well as applying the dye, results ranging in effect from a sunburst of color with little or no form to a conventional pattern with a carefully considered color scheme.

The initial folding of the material, usually into four parts, though simple, is of much importance in tie-dyeing, as it is by this means that the design is kept symmetrical throughout the process. Regardless of the variations achieved in the tying and dyeing methods, this fundamental symmetrical arrangement persists.

Knotting is the very simplest form of tie-dyeing. The material itself is tied into knots, and for this only very thin material can be used. Starting with material of white or a light color, gather it together in a strip and tie a number of knots in it as you would a rope, spacing the knots evenly throughout the length of the piece. Now place the whole piece into a dye-bath—for example, blue. When the color is as deep as desired, remove the cloth from the dye and rinse it carefully. Wring it, and after allowing fifteen or twenty minutes for the dye to "set," untie the knots. You will find you have created a design consisting of irregular stripes against a background of blue.

If the material is exceedingly thin, the strips may be alternated with small circular "ties." In order to make these "ties," first find the exact spot where you want to place the tie, and with the thumb and forefinger pull the material out into a point and tie it into a knot. It is better that you tie all the strips that you are going to use before tying the spots, otherwise the material will be pulled out of shape and difficult to handle. This method is good for decorating long strips of cloth, as, for instance, curtain material. A scarf or handkerchief may be done by simply tying it through the center as described and then tying each of the corners into a knot.

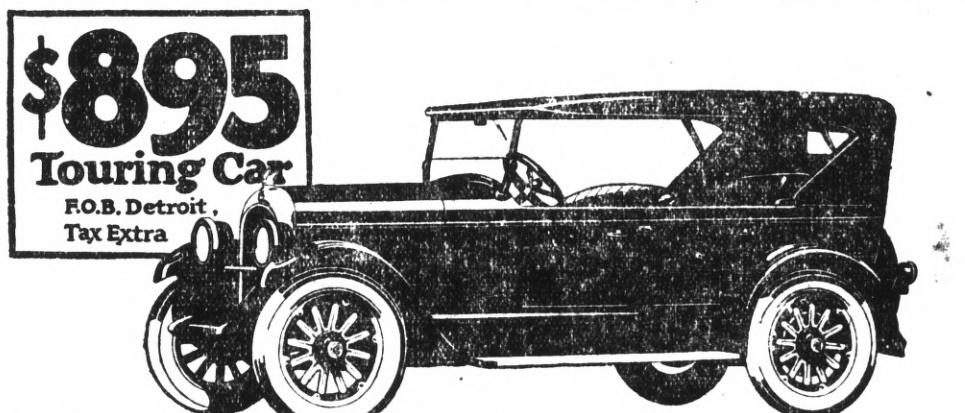

More interesting are the results obtained by winding around the material with string, tape or thread, and with this method almost any kind of fabric may be used. Very elaborate work is possible, particularly where more parts are tied after the dyeing, with still further tying, dyeing, etc., through a series of colors.

The usual way of making a tie-dye is as follows: Fold the material three times, bringing the four corners together and the center into a point. Wind this center portion either with very strong string or thread (linen preferred, as it is stronger) or tape, beginning a little distance from the point and

The charming border on the neck and sleeves of this blouse is obtained by pleating the material evenly together, placing a strip of wood on each side of the pleated mass and binding it firmly together. The width of the band and should therefore be the same size and thickness in order to have the design symmetrical.

It is easier to make four at one time by binding the four thicknesses of the cloth in one tie. Thus they will be uniform in appearance and symmetrically arranged.

Uncommon eagerness to own the new Chrysler Four indicates how far this latest Chrysler achievement is an advance over the usual standards of four-cylinder performance, appearance and value.

Never, perhaps, in history has a four-cylinder car been so heartily welcomed or so greatly desired.

The first showing of the Chrysler Four has attracted thousands to our showrooms. Scores have placed orders, without demonstrations, after a first view of the car. So instantaneous has been its appeal that, already, public demand exceeds scheduled production.

It is especially significant of Chrysler value that buyers everywhere express their willingness to wait rather than

Sound Advice To Buyers of Autos By J. P. Strom

"Look to the company behind the car you buy. Be sure it is permanent. Be sure that your investment will not be in an orphan car," advises J. P. Strom, dealer in the Richmond territory for Hudson and Essex.

"It is actually a fact that many more motor cars have failed than have lived. A motor magazine recently called the roll alphabetically on the companies that have gone, and there was at least one company for every letter in the alphabet except Q and X. If only some hopeful manufacturers had turned out a Quince and a Xerxes the whole alphabet would have been complete in the graveyard of forgotten machines."

"You will find today many motorists with their good money tied up in 'orphan cars'—cars on which service is expensive and difficult to get, and cars which will have very little if any re-sale value whatever."

"On this basis, the wise buyer will find a new and added respect for Hudson and Essex cars. Not only is the concern well-seasoned, but it has been known as a leader in the industry. Its invention of the coach type of car, and its sponsorship of the coach all during the period when it had to meet opposition and even ridicule by makers who are now flocking to it, is one of the industry's greatest examples of leadership."

"It must be remembered to begin with that while Hudson-Essex conceived the coach idea, they were not merely content to let someone else develop the idea. They have already built and sold over 350,000 cars of the coach type. As a result they have a background of experience behind them in building this type of closed car that is not remotely approached by any other manufacturer. They have achieved a volume of production that no other closed-car builder ever attained before, and with the resultant economy of overhead and all manufacturing costs."

"For a long time to come, the man who thinks of coach will think of Hudson and Essex."

Greater Movie Season to See Many Fine Shows

Greater Movie Season, a festival for picture patrons, begins in August. All the important players, producers and directors are engaged in motion pictures are out to make the screen's twenty-ninth birthday a national celebration. Incidentally, it will be the first coast-to-coast demonstration in the amazing history of the films since the days when Thomas A. Edison's little studio-shack, painted black, was laughed at as "The Black Maria."

Communications from Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., representing studio-land where the project originated, set before them its national aspects. Arrangements tentatively arrived at by the managers of the California and Richmond theatres for greater Movie

Davis was the oldest native of the county, and Mrs. Davis was the first girl born in Contra Costa. Funeral arrangements for the deceased are pending. The remains are at the Bert Curry parlors.

Season here assure a gala month for picture-goers.

Although no previous statement has been issued, preparations began several months ago at the studios where production has been pushed ahead to permit the exhibition of the new pictures during August instead of later in the fall. Higher standards of production have been aimed at and attained, it is stated, and the season's offerings will impress the remarkable advances screen art has made.

It is a far cry from "The Great

Train Robbery," which was a masterpiece twenty-years ago, to present day features; while even the finest of 1920 or 1924 are eclipsed not only by today's best but today's average. Now the new productions are on their way and today's outstanding films may seem less important by comparison with what August brings.

"They're better than ever" has been adopted as a seasonal slogan. To that might be added, in view of what the event promises, the public's own slogan, "Let's all go."

TUBERCULOSIS OVERCOME

Oakland, Calif.
HIERRE, a test as a last resort. For about three years I suffered from a bad cough and sore chest. I tried many doctors, all of whom pronounced my case Tuberculosis. My spirit was examined and showed tubercular germs. As I found no improvement from any of the treatments that I took, I decided to give the FONG WAN HERB a test. After having drunk the herbs for four months, I was able to gain weight. A year has elapsed since I began to take the FONG WAN HERB and I am still well and have no sign of my former complaint.

Celebration For Opening Of Bathhouse

A city-wide celebration to mark the opening of the new $100,000 municipal bathhouse about September 15, is being planned by the West Side Progressive association. The initial preparations were made at the meeting of the association on Friday evening.

It is expected that other portions of the county, as well as outside cities will be represented when the bathhouse is thrown open to the public. Secretary C. M. Patten will take the matter up with the city council and the chamber of commerce. Patten will be assisted in outlining the details of the celebration by committee yet to be appointed. The co-operation of lodges and civic organizations will be secured. A communication read at the meeting from the owners of the Kozzy Kove was to the effect that the spot can be purchased by the city as a municipal resort for $9,000. The matter was referred to the park committee of the association, consisting of Andrew Trautvetter, Mrs. George W. Topping, I. L. Fernald and Kath-

Officers Finish Double Romance At Sycamore

COLUMBIA, July 25.—A romance in duplicate crashed here last night when officers broke up two happy cottage homes on the Davis ranch at Sycamore. Two brothers, the runaway wives of two other brothers, and two pairs of children were taken into custody on telegraph warrants from Barstow.

Bessie and Alie McClelland are the wives of the McClelland brothers, oil drillers in the Barstow fields. Bessie is the mother of two boys, 2 and 5 years of age. Alie has two girls, 3 and 5 years old.

They say that their fraternal husbands neglected them and failed to provide properly for them and the children. They became discontented and in the midst of their sorrows became acquainted with another pair of brothers, Homer Waymire, 21, and Cecil Waymire, 30.

Cecil owned an automobile and one day about a month ago the two wives, two brothers and two pairs of children departed in the car to seek happiness and a new life to the northward. They had little money and made their way by working in the fruit houses along the route, finally arriving at the Davis ranch about a week ago.

Police Look For Poisoner Of Many Dogs

The police department is extending every effort to apprehend the persons who have poisoned six dogs of late almost within the heart of the city. Fear that small children may fall victims of the wholesale poisonings, the bait for which is placed so promiscuously, has caused the police to take drastic action.

Deaths of dogs owned by J. D. Baldwin, 1208 Barrett avenue; Mrs. John Fowler, 415 Fourteenth street; Police Sergeant Edward Jennings, and others, have been caused by poisoned chicken bones and meat scraps placed in the vicinity of Fourteenth and Barrett avenue.

Arrests are expected momentarily as a result of the investigation of the cases. Poison spreading is a felon punishable by a prison term of from 1 to 3 years.

RAGS WANTED—Record-Herald

Fire Policies To Be Changed Is The Edict

SACRAMENTO, July 25.—Effective August 1, 1925, a new ruling affecting fire insurance policies, where these are involved in bond issues, was announced today by Edwin M. Daugherty, State Corporation Commissioner. The ruling was made for the protection of bond investors and relates to the so-called "fallen building" clause in policies. On and after August 1, Commissioner Daugherty announced, the department will insist that this clause be eliminated from insurance policies covering buildings upon which bond issues are floated in California.

"Experience shows that in cases of explosions, earthquakes, and similar occurrences, fire frequently attacks buildings after these buildings or substantial portions of them have been raised by the shock," said the Commissioner. "The so-called 'fallen building' clause in fire insurance policies has the effect of terminating the insurance protection the moment a wall or substantial portion of the building falls and fire follows. That means, in the event of a disaster larger or small, if a wall falls and a fire results the insurance gives no protection."

"We believe the investing public who place their money in bonds are entitled to protection on account of fire hazards which so frequently follow in the wake of a collapse of buildings from any cause. It is for this reason that the rule was made."

The "fallen building" clause, which is to be found in the general laws of California, reads as follows:

"Unless otherwise provided by agreement endorsed hereon or added hereto, if a building or any material part thereof falls, except as the result of fire, all insurance by this policy on such building or its contents shall immediately cease."

Big Dredger Is Working On The Inner Harbor

The work of dredging the inner harbor is now progressing nicely. A San Francisco Bridge company dredge has been at work for several days deepening the channel. Filling for wharf development has also been started.

A pile driver now at Avon will be brought to Richmond early this week by the company. Where only a few short weeks ago there was only marsh land, there is now high solid land, and tractors are busy leveling it for company buildings. The erection of the warehouse and shops of the company will be in about 30 days.

Between 600,000 and 700,000 new poles are required annually to carry the wires of the Bell System.

"Quality Corner"

We never could see LOGIC in this

Some owners of pneumatic equipped trucks and delivery cars say —

"Why buy quality tires . . . the drivers abuse the tires anyway . . . cheap tires are good enough . . ."

Seems to us that here's where the finest and most durable equipment would be the most economical . . . and lately we've had an opportunity to prove it. We converted several fleet owners from this old notion to Diamond Heavy Service Cords . . . and they're certainly glad we did.

The tire isn't made that can stand the gaff like this Diamond Cord! In sizes . . . 30 x 3 1/2 to 40 x 8.
